Center for Skin & Cosmetic Dermatology

DR. PETER J. MALOUF

Dr. Peter J. Malouf, founder of the Center for Skin & Cosmetic Dermatology, believes that the growth of his practice is due to his commitment to establishing trust with his patients. This has been his guiding principle since day one and is accomplished by communicating with patients on a personal level, gaining a complete understanding of their needs and desires, and then offering only those procedures that will truly benefit them, even when that means encouraging them to do nothing at all.

Dr. Malouf stays on the leading edge of innovation and is known for his pioneering techniques. To correct a sagging neck without full surgery, he developed the Mini Neck Lift® procedure, which, after being featured on a local news broadcast, commanded the attention of national news show "Inside Edition." This story drew thousands from all over the country looking to improve their appearance without the worry, pain and recovery time of full surgery. This list includes celebrities, TV personalities, and other public figures who turn to Dr. Malouf for quick, non-invasive treatments with natural-looking results. He recently appeared on a national talk show filmed in LA, during which celebrity guests, producers, and directors lined up for their Botox and filler "fix".

Another popular procedure is the Active FX laser, which treats moderate sun damage using the latest advancement in skin resurfacing. The result is a well-toned, blemish-free complexion with a baby smooth surface. For patients with more severe sun damage as well as sagging skin, Dr. Malouf created the EnergyLift™, which combines the SafeLift™, a minimally invasive face-lifting technique, with the Active FX laser.

Dr. Malouf is passionate about his work and finds fulfillment in knowing that he can help his patients make positive changes in their lives. Since opening in 1999, his practice in Fort Worth has expanded to include three full surgical suites, a medical spa with a retail store, a dermatology clinic, and an aesthetics center.

He employs nine medical providers, four medical aestheticians, and thirty-five nurses and assistants. He has recently opened a satellite clinic in Weatherford and is in the process of opening his third facility located in Preston Center in Dallas.

His hope is to establish multiple centers across North Texas to meet the needs of existing and new patients.
